MEXICAN BANDITS CAPTURE AVIATORS DEMAND RANSOM

Arrangements Have Been Made to Pay Ransom to Save Men

Believed Aviators Mistook Mexican River for Rio Grande, and Lost Way

Marfa, Texas, August 18.—By the United Press.—Arrangements were completed today to send carriers to Candelaria, Texas with $15,000 ransom money for Lieut. Paul H. Davis, age 23, of Strathmore, Calif., and Harold G. Peterson, age 25, of Hutchinson, Minn., reported held by the Mexican bandits in Chico Cano in the Canyon of the Mexican big bend district, according to an official report.

It has been agreed upon by army officials as the only way to save the aviators. Negotiations will be made through Lawkins Kirkpatrick, a storekeeper at Candelaria, well acquainted with Mexicans over the line. Kirkpatrick was reported to be in touch with bandits today in an effort to get them to postpone their time limit set for tonight. The aviators have been missed since they started their border patrol flight August 10. It is believed they mistook the flood of the Rio Concho for the Rio Grande and followed that stream into Mexico. Army officials consider the situation serious.

Lieutenant Peterson, the pilot of the biplane which has been missing since last Sunday, is 25 years old and is from Hutchinson, Minnesota. Lieutenant Davis is 23 years old and is from Strathmore, Calif., but has relatives in Berkeley, Calif.

According to the demand received here today, the ransom must be paid tomorrow, no time being stated in the message, it to be delivered in gold to an American, supposed to be an agent of the bandits, at Candelaria, Texas, on the Rio Grande, 60 miles south of Valentine, Texas.

Army Statement
The full text of the statement issued at military headquarters tonight by General Erwin, read as follows:

"A telegram was received this afternoon by Maj. L. A. Walton, commander of the aero unit signed by the two aviators who have been missing since Sunday, stating they have been captured by Mexicans and were being held for $15,000 ransom which must be paid by August 18, or they would be killed.

"This message was brought into a town in the Big Bend district by a well-known bandit, Col. George T. Langhorne, commanding officer of the Eighth cavalry and the Big Bend district, wired the commanding general of the El Paso district that the message is authentic and that he is taking all necessary measures to secure the release of the aviators and has presented this matter to the proper authorities. The name of the place from which the message was sent as well as the place where the ransom is to be paid is not given as it might interfere with the release of the aviators."

On Detached Duty
Aviators Peterson and Davis are a part of the personnel of the Fort Bliss aviation corps but were on detached duty with the Big Bend district military headquarters at Marfa, Texas, at the time they disappeared—they left Marfa last Sunday morning for the usual patrol of the border, planning to follow the north bank of the Rio Grande, to the end of the district.

It is believed by aviation officers here they confused the Conchos river, which flows into the Rio Grande near Presidio, Texas, with the Rio Grande, and followed the course of this river into the interior of Mexico. Another theory advanced here by fellow aviators, is that they were forced to land, either on the American or Mexican side of the border in the wild country of the Big Bend district and were made prisoners by the Mexican bandits.

Texas cowboys who met to vote at Fort Davis, subscribed $15,000 and Brigadier General Erwin commander at Fort Bliss also has raised the ransom.

(By United Press)

The United States government views the situation as serious and calls for immediate adequate action, the state department announced.

CANADA'S VICTORIOUS HEROES BEAT SWORDS INTO PLOWSHARES

Back to the Farm—Cracke Montreal Regiment in Victory Parade

So rapid and efficient has been demobilization in Canada that her whole army will be returned by the end of July, but the debt of Canada to her valiant sons will not be cancelled when the last man is discharged with his bonus.

The Canadian government has set aside all public lands within thirteen miles of any existing lines of railway, that returned soldiers may have the advantage of locating reasonably close to transportation. It has also provided for the purchase of private lands in any province for re-sale to soldiers. This purchase, however, is not made from real estate speculators. Those eligible to take advantage of the government offer are Canadian, Imperial and Colonial soldiers who have served outside the Dominion, or Canadian troops serving at home who have been injured in such service. These men, when passed upon by the Soldier Settlement Board, will be loaned up to $4,500 for the purchase of land and up to $2,000 for the purchase of implements and stock. The man is given 25 years to repay the first loan at 5 per cent amortized, paying the

Mayor Says Strike is a Conspiracy by Strikers and Company to Force Higher Fares

New York, N. Y., August 18.—(By the United Press)—Millions started to walk in a drizzling rain with transportation lines paralyzed on subway and elevated roads by the striking of the Brotherhood of Inter Borough Rapid Transit Co. employes, an organization fostered by the company.

Not a wheel was turning this morning on any line affected. The shut down became effective shortly after 4 o'clock Sunday morning when the Brotherhood leaders ignored the eleventh hour injunction, but the full effect was not felt until early today when the city attempted to start the week's work.

Mayor Hylan, who has charged a collusion between the striking Brotherhood and the company to force a fare increase, issued a statement yesterday to the strikers in which he said: "Right now the Inter Borough Rapid Transit company wants to use you as a temporary expedient so that they can get 8c fares."

Public Service Commissioner Nixon will open an investigation this afternoon. It was said that he will investigate every angle of the shut down and strike.

The bridegroom was a big, bushful looking country boy. Immediately after the ceremony he disappeared from the scene, and after a long search was found calmly smoking his pipe in the hay loft in the barn, in his shirt sleeves and his collar off. Rigorous Mourning.

"Germany's week of mourning over the harshness of our peace terms was rigorously observed—nlt," said Major Frederick Palmer, the famous war correspondent.

"There's a story about the week of mourning from Berlin. A Berlinese assistant theater manager said to the manager:

"Is our burlesque going to observe the week of mourning, boss?" "Rigorously, sir, rigorously," the boss replied.

"Close down—is that the idea?" said the assistant.

"Close down nothing!" said the boss. "We'll put all the chorus girls in black silk stockings."

To Keep Castaways Dry.

Louis O. Anderson has invented a "storm cover" for boats which, when adjusted, covers both boat and rower so completely that waves and rain will roll off it as water rolls off a duck's back. The suit, which includes a headpiece, is made full at its juncture with the rubberized cover, says the Popular Science Monthly, so that the oarsman may try to paddle with one of the oars while sitting in the stern with the tail spread out behind him. His other ear makes a backbone for the cover.

WOMAN'S REALM

Penrose-Norman

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Kuntz, 861 South Sixth street, Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when Miss Dorothy Helen Penrose and Rinaldo A. Norman, both of Alton, Illinois, were married in the presence of relatives and immediate friends, the ceremony being performed by Rev. C. P. Sheridan, S. T. D., D. D., formerly of Brainerd and now pastor of the First Congregational church of Fairbault.

The bride was charming in her traveling suit and carried a large bouquet of bridal roses. She was unattended. After a honeymoon spent with relatives at a summer cottage at Gull lake, they will leave for Philadelphia where they will make their home.

Porpoise Killed Shark.

How a bottle-nosed dolphin, a porpoise commonly called the seahog, slew a 6-foot shark, is described by Galveston (Texas) fishermen, who say they witnessed the killing from the cove which connects Galveston island with the mainland.

The seahog, according to the books, is a "most sociable and gregarious fish," but these fishermen declared there was nothing sociable about this dolphin. When the shark was within a few feet of the porpoise the fishermen saw the seahog charge, a gray streak in the water. It struck the shark squarely amidships, they declare, ripped it open and then tore the body into pieces.

The theory of the fishermen is that the porpoise fought to protect its single young one, which the shark was menacing.

HATS FOR SHORT AND TALL

Headgear Most Becoming to Woman Below Average Height Compared With Others.

Rather large hats are leaders in summer millinery, and sentiment is about equally divided between the poke-shaped affair with narrow brim and the hat with wide brim of even width all around.

A study of types will usually prove to the woman below the average height that if she wants a broad-brimmed hat the one that flares over the face only and is cut narrower at the back is the most becoming. A hat that has a wide brim all the way around is the best selection for the tall beauty. The small hat may be worn by the woman of practically any height. The brimless hat, however, is more trying to the average face than one with a brim to shade the face and soften any lines.

Dainty Trifles for Girls' Use.

Pretty lingerie clips are made of crochet and the snap fasteners with which they fasten are covered with tiny crocheted roses. Other clips are made of linen tape trimmed with a tatted edge. Both are practical because washable. Ribbon clips are finished with tiny pink rosebuds. Any bits of crepe de chine or ribbon will make a cluster of the popular little buds that girls will delightedly find a place for on her lingerie, her best hat or bag, or her dancing frock.

House Work in Hot Weather

Hot weather brings no relief from housework drudgery. If anything, woman's work is more trying. Overwork and worry cause kidney trouble, resulting in backache, sore muscles, stiff joints, rheumatic pains, tired feeling and other distressing symptoms. Foley Kidney Pills help weak kidneys. H. P. HOP, SKIP AND JUMP HOBBLE

Manners Reflected in Style of Clothes—Recall Egyptian and Japanese Way of Dressing.

The styles of our clothes have been responsible for some very interesting ways of walking. In fact, styles of walking are easily to be traced to the sort of skirts we wear. Or is it the other way around? Do we submit to extremes in skirts according as we are willing to give up the privilege of taking comfortable, normal steps?

This is not the first time we have hobbled. But the hobble of 1919 is just a little different from the hobble of 1913. For one thing, writes a fashion correspondent, we are not so doleful about it. We cannot accustom ourselves to it, for we have gone unchecked and unaltered for so many seasons.

So this season's hobble is characterized by something that resembles a hop, skip and jump. We make a valiant effort as if we hoped any minute to be able to step forward unchecked, and finally abandon our efforts to progress entirely. Then we either give up walking entirely or abandon our tight skirt in favor of one that is wider though not so fashionable.

At the resorts, where women have in other seasons promenade to show their own and to see other women's new apparel, and where only those who were too weary or too weak to walk resorted to the wheel chairs, it has been noticed that there were decidedly fewer promenaders among the women and an unusually large demand for the wheel chairs. The answer is not far to seek. No matter how willing, nay, eager, you may be to walk, if your ankles are shackled, you can't do it. Hence you must either stand or consent to be wheeled.

But there is nothing new at all about the hobble step. In fact, the skirt so tight as to force women to take mincing steps seems to have been admired since the dawn of history. Surely, the Egyptian woman must have hobbled as much as the young woman of 1919, and the Japanese girl in her narrow hemmed kimono certainly never knew the freedom that comes with the skirt that is wide and short.

MUST WEAR DARK CLOTHES

Strict Rule for Employees in Factories Where Work Is Done on Gold.

Clothes of a light color are not favorites where work is done on gold. In fact, in many such factories a dark suit of clothes is absolutely demanded, and even a light waistcoat may lose a man a job. The reason for this is that any stray grains of gold that may get on the clothing can easily be caught on a dark suit, while they might get away from the establishment if light clothes were worn.

That such a rule was enforced among gold workers one man learned recently when a Bohemian gold beater applied to him for a helping hand. The Bohemian said that he had not been in this country long, that he had had a chance to obtain a good job at his trade, but that the place had been refused him because he turned up with a light suit and waistcoat on, and they were the only clothes he had. The man whom he approached was struck by the story and offered to help him out if it proved true. He went to a factory with him and found out that the man could have the job if he presented himself within an hour clad in the proper clothes. So a suit of desired kind was obtained for him and sure enough he got the job.

"You may think this is strange," said the foreman of the factory, "but it means quite a lot to us. Every man's clothing is carefully examined when he leaves the place at night and the gold is brushed off whenever we see any on his clothing. It is impossible to hide even tiny grains on a dark background, but in the case of a mixed or a light suit we might easily lose quite an amount of gold, and gold isn't anything you want to lose even in small quantities."

Surprises That Lurk in Hat Shops

At the time when we have heretofore found "finis" written in the story of summer millinery we find this year "continued." It seems the powers that be in the realm of hats have forbidden the early execution of summer headwear and interdicted the coming of velvet and other wintry looking things in August. To answer the demand for something new for late summer they have furnished new hats, but they are all summery and not wintry. Most of them are made of tulle or silk or crepe georgette in cool combinations of color, like navy and white, white and black, all white and all pink. The hat in a delicate shade, like the inside of a shell is promised a great vogue.

Three unusual hats for late summer are shown in the group above. The hat at the upper left of the group has a very wide, protecting brim and is covered with shell pink georgette crepe. There is a "curtain" about the brim edge that makes a pretty shadow for the eyes. Such a hat sheds a pale glow over the face. For trimming it boasts a scarf of tulle or lace draped about the crown and hanging over the brim edge. How much more pleasing to look at in hot weather a hat of this kind is than one of heavier stuffs.

The big black hat has always been a favorite in midsummer millinery.

The example of it shown in the picture is made of hair braid with a fancy edge put on in two rows about the brim and covering the round crown. It is sparingly trimmed with a cluster of glycerine ostrich feathers at the back and a tie of ribbon about the crown.

A bonnet-like shape at the bottom of the group is a charming novelty. This georgette-covered shape has a facing that covers half the under brim in a darker shade than the stripe in the hat. In this model the georgette is a white with cross bars of celestial blue. One would expect a sash of ribbon on a model as quaint as this, and it is there; also a small cluster of flowers and a wisp of feathers are setted complacently, knowing they are expected, at the front of the shape.

Strasbourg to Honor De L'Isle.
It is a pleasant detail in the coming erection of a memorial at Strasbourg to Rouget de L'Isle and his "Chant de guerre de l'armee du Rhin," which became "La Marseillaise," that the chairman of the committee in charge bears the name and is a direct descendant of Mayor Dietrich, in whose house the song was first sung. Little enough when De L'Isle composed it did he foresee either that his song would provide inspiration for a French revolution or that time would bring him a permanent memorial in a Strasbourg that had passed out of French possession and come back again. The author himself suffered both by loss of his commission and by imprisonment, first because the adoption of his song by the Revolution made him suspected of revolutionary beliefs by what power still remained to the older government, and later because his lack of enthusiasm for the revolution made him an object of an attack by the new leaders.

EARLY BUILDING FOR SUCCESS

Youth's Wise Employment of Leisure Hours Means Everything in His After Life.

If the young man could only assimilate very early in his life the fact that merely to live and eat and drink and sleep, and then die, is not enough, but that he must rob himself of many of the pleasures usually taken up by young men if he means to make his life of the highest possible use to the world, he would set his foot on the pathway to accomplish something worth while.

There is no harm in billiards or pool or in dancing, baseball or card playing, or any one of the scores of different diversions and recreations open to young men. The natural inclination usually is to devote a large part of the leisure hours of young manhood to such pleasures. But the youth who is really earnest in his ambition to do something worth while will discipline himself to resist such temptations during his early, formative years, for the whole fate of a man is largely determined by how he utilizes his plastic years. He may be restricted by circumstances, by environment, by family ties in his selection of his daily work, but every young man, particularly nowadays, has many hours that he can call his own, and it is how he chooses to use these hours that counts most and tells most.—Forbes Magazine.

Life Much as We Make It.

No person is ever condemned to a small life. Many are assigned to small circumstances, but our lives may be as large as we want them to be. For the only limits of life are aspiration, sympathy and interest.—Selected.

TREATY CONFLICT HAS A PRECEDENT

GRANT'S DESIRE TO ANNEX SANTO DOMINGO BROUGHT ON A SIMILAR CONTEST.

SUMNER LEADS OPPOSITION

Bitter Struggle in the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations Was Brought to an End by Sort of Compromise.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—In the corridors of the capitol and on the streets of Washington today one frequently hears that nothing like the present conflict between the administration and the senate on the subject of a treaty ever occurred before in the history of the country.

However there is nothing new under the sun, as the wise one said. When one chooses to dig a little into the records, or even into the history of events with which men are supposed to be familiar, he generally finds a parallel to a present case, no matter what that case may be.

The people for some time have been witnessing a conflict of opinion and of effort between the president and the senate committee on foreign relations on the subject of a treaty, a conflict which has had a good many dramatic features. Has anything of this kind happened before? Yes, and not so long ago but that men still living remember the circumstances. In fact, there have been several such controversies, one or two of them in recent years, but the most marked case probably is one which had its scene and setting in the first administration of President Ulysses S. Grant.

General Grant desired to annex Santo Domingo to the United States. He believed that a treaty of annexation readily could be entered into with that country which has been known as the Black Republic. He broached his plans and the matter, of course, went to the senate committee on foreign relations, of which Charles Sumner of Massachusetts, a Republican, as Grant was a Republican, was chairman. At that time there was no question of difference of party or of party feeling between the chairman of the senate foreign relations committee and the president of the United States. Moreover, the senate itself substantially was Republican in its majority.

Sumner Fought the Treaty.

There was an internal row on in San Domingo, as frequently has been the case in that land. The American administration was sympathetic with the ruling aspirations of one Baez who claimed to be the rightful president of the San Domingo Republic. The treaty was drawn up with Baez and with annexation as its object, and it went before the committee on foreign relations of the senate for consideration and for action.

Charles Sumner, chairman of the committee, was just as antagonistic to the treaty looking to the annexation of San Domingo as Senator Lodge, chairman of the committee today, is to some of the features of the treaty of peace and covenant of the League of Nations.

The interchanges between Sumner and the administration were sharper than some of those which are passing back and forth today. The Republican party in the senate was split on the matter on which the administration's heart was set. Sumner reported adversely on behalf of the committee on foreign relations on the San Domingo treaty, and then the trouble in the senate broke loose.

Carl Schurz at that time was a senator of the United States and a member of the foreign relations committee. With several other Republican senators he backed Sumner, while Roscoe Conkling and other Republican senators stood by the administration.

San Domingo Fight Bitter.

Unlike proceedings of the present time, the San Domingo treaty matter was discussed in executive session. Today the League of Nations is under discussion in the open senate. From reports, supposedly truthful, of what was said in the executive sessions during the Grant-Sumner controversy, it seems likely that there was more bitterness displayed in that elder day than is the case at present.

The controversy resulted in a sort of a compromise. Congress appointed a commission to look into the San Domingo matter, and to make a report thereon, but Sumner carried his point when he secured an amendment to the resolution authorizing the appointment of a committee, to the effect that nothing in the resolution should be construed, even in spirit, as committing the United States to a favorable position on the treaty.

Of course it is not necessary to say that the treaty did not go through, for people know that San Domingo never was annexed to the United States. The antagonism between Grant and Sumner aroused by the treaty matter, added to others which came later, led to a complete breach.

Today one or two Democratic senators are at odds on the League of Nations with the Democratic administration. This has been spoken of as something unusual. A reading of the condition of things in the senate during the consideration of the San Domingo treaty matter will show that in that day there were Republican senators openly opposed to a Republican administration.

AMUSEMENTS

At the Best Tonight

"What Every Woman Wants," is answered by the photo-drama of that title produced by Jesse D. Hampton and released through Exhibitors Mutual, starring lovely Grace Darmond.

Some blasé bachelors and chronic married men claim that no woman knows what she does want; that when she gets what she wants, she doesn't want it any more.

These same hypocrites blatantly assert that all a woman wants besides the earth, sun, moon, stars, milk, and all contained therein, is her own way, and then she gets mad at herself because she has nobody to argue the question with.

It is easily understood by intelligent men that if a woman has a nice home, plenty of beautiful clothes, the right to draw ad libitum on her husband's bank account, the inalienable privilege of shaking down his trousers every night, to entertain "mother" for indefinite periods, a couple of automobiles, a few diamonds, cats, and canaries, suffrage and prohibition, cold cream on the face every night, cold hash on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and a hot reception for hubby on his "morning after," she is perfectly satisfied if only hubby will rear up on his hind legs and raise "Red" every once in a while, so as to keep things interesting.

At least some are satisfied with these little items. "What Every Woman Wants" is solved in a very satisfactory way by the author, William Parker, and Grace Darmond, the beautiful star, is ocular proof of what every man would like to have.

At the Best Tomorrow

After the production of a straight drama and a melodrama, Dorothy Gish has again returned to the field of pure comedy. In "I'll Get Him Yet," her current picture which will be shown at the Best theatre tomorrow there will be no difficulty on the part of the audience to work out the problems of the play.

"It's giggles we want," says Miss Gish, but in the reviews the giggles grow to roars.

"Situations and Dorothy Gish are all that is required to satisfy any audience as long as the film runs," says one critic, "and it is a matter of choice as to whether or not you need the situations."

Reason for Optimism.

"Some men are optimists," said Uncle Eben, "for de reason dat it's most times easier to sell a man sumpin' by tellin' him a funny story dan it is by tellin' him de truth."

IMMENSE DRY DOCK AT PEARL HARBOR

OFFICIAL OPENING WILL MARK COMPLETION OF DIFFICULT ENGINEERING PROJECT.

WILL COST OVER $5,000,000

After Results of Four Years of Work Were Destroyed in 1913, New Plan of Construction on Greater Scale Was Adopted.

Washington.—The official opening of the navy dry dock at Pearl Harbor, near Honolulu, late this month, will mark the successful completion of one of the most difficult engineering projects ever undertaken by the United States government. The immense dock represents a total investment of more than $5,000,000 and has been under construction for ten years. Secretary of the Navy Daniels will officiate at the christening of the dock.

The dock is completed just in time to add a much needed facility for care of ships of the Pacific fleet. The first vessel to enter the dock will probably be one of the dreadnaughts of Admiral Rodman's force, possibly the New Mexico. The dock is 1,001 feet in length, 324 feet deep, 114 feet wide at the bottom and 138 feet wide at the top. It will dock the largest ship of war now afloat or contemplated.

Disaster in 1913.

After the sections of the dock had been finished and were being anchored in their places in 1913 the water was pumped out, whereupon the bottom of the dock was forced upward by pressure from the sides and the engineers and workmen were forced to stand helplessly by and watch the fruits of four years of labor and millions of dollars of money crushed into a shapeless mass of debris.

A new plan of construction, on a much greater scale was then adopted. Concrete sections 60 feet long and the full width of the dock were cast one at a time and lowered to the bottom of the dry dock, securely anchoring it. Then the great structure was built. Early in March this year the dock was pumped out for the first time. The upward pressure of the bottom had been overcome and the structure rose but three sixteenths of an inch when perfectly dry.

Statue of Meade to Be Erected.

Another military statue is to be added to the large collection of such memorials in the public parks of the District of Columbia. It is the memorial of Gen. George C. Meade, the Union hero of the great battle of Gettysburg in the Civil war. That memorial is donated by the state of Pennsylvania, of which state General Meade was a native. By authority of congress it will be erected in the botanical garden in an open grass plot near the intersection of Pennsylvania avenue and Third street, and so form a companion piece to the Grant memorial at the east end of that garden.

Site and design of the Meade memorial have been approved by the fine arts commission and by the Meade memorial commission, of which the secretary of war and the governor of Pennsylvania are members. All necessary preliminaries have been completed and the actual work of construction is in progress.

Charles Grafty, sculptor, and Simon & Bassett, architects, all of Philadelphia, designed the memorial and were given the contract for its construction. The approved design is distinctively original and calls for a memorial unlike any other structure of the kind in the world.

Monument Is Described.

Back of this group stands another formed of the figure of the recording angel of war, flanked on either side by figures representing Courage and Energy. On either side of the pedestal between the two groups stand figures representing Fame and Progress. All the figures are of heroic proportions and face outward from their base on the circular pedestal.

All the figures will be carved out of rose-pink Tennessee marble, and it is estimated that the group alone will cost $85,000.

"Burning the Midnight Oil"

THAT, literally, is the reason why the American has won the proud distinction of being the best educated man in the world.

Because a cheap, dependable illuminating oil made from petroleum was developed first in the United States, the people of this country had the opportunity of studying late into the night long before such luxury was possible elsewhere.

The petroleum industry, in which the Standard Oil Company was a pioneer, has made it possible, even in remote places, for man to read, study and acquire knowledge in comfort, after the day's work is done.

The tremendous development of America shows that the American has "burned the midnight oil" to good purpose.

The seven men who manage the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), the 19,568 men and women who carry on the business, and the 4623 stockholders, all are proud of the fact that their Company has been, and is, such a potent influence in the development of the nation.

Today the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) operates the greatest and most complete refinery in the world, together with several others of lesser output.

Throughout 11 states the Company distributes the refined products so thoroughly that even those in the remote corners are able, at all times, to get their requirements at a low price.

Thus is shown another marked benefit accruing to all from the activities of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) as a public servant.

2 SHOPMEN LOST IN THE WOODS

A. I. Anderson, a machinist, and A. C. Edling, a helper, were reported lost by shopmen Sunday and five automobiles went out searching for them in the Cross Lake country. They had been out berry picking since Thursday and had not reported since then. Late Sunday afternoon they returned to Brainerd.

STRANGLED TO DEATH IN BED IN PEQUOT

Pequot, Minn., Aug 18—Silas Lingwall, member of the railway clerks union of Brainerd, was found dead in bed at the Hotel Tanzer in Pequot, having been accidentally strangled to death while in an epileptic fit.

It is surmised that while in the fit he turned over on his face, burying it in the pillow and strangled while unconscious. The remains were viewed by Coroner C. A. Nelson, who said it was an accidental death. B. C. McNamara local undertaker, has gone to Pequot for the remains.

SMALL DAM OUT AT FRAZEE ON SUNDAY

A small dam built by the Nichols-Chisholm Co. at Frazee released a drive early on Sunday morning and Foreman George H. Brown, just returned home to Brainerd, was ordered back to check the same. It will necessitate recovering the runaway logs and hauling the same back.

BRAINERD MENTIONED

Weekly News Letter of American Federation of Labor Carries Labor Item

Under date of August 9 the Weekly News Letter of the American Federation of Labor carries this Brainerd labor item:

"Paper mill workers have secured wage increases as a result of conferences with employers. Paper makers are advanced 15 per cent, the increase to date from May 11 last. Pulp and other workers are increased from 5 to 10 cents an hour.

FORD MAY COLLECT ONLY 12 CENTS FROM TRIBUNE

Mount Clemens, Mich., Aug. 15—The amount of costs that Henry Ford may receive from the Chicago Daily Tribune, in addition to the 6 cents damages awarded him Friday night by the jury which heard his libel suit against the Chicago newspaper, will not exceed $50. Under a Michigan law, where nominal damages are awarded, not more than $50 costs can be assessed against the losing party.

Among attorneys the opinion was held that in cases where damages awarded amounted to less than $50, the costs collectible may not exceed the judgment awarded. In this event Mr. Ford could demand only 6 cents costs from the Tribune.

The New Census

Preparations are now under way for the taking of the new census. The Secretary of Commerce, upon the recommendation of the Director of the Census, has appointed Thomas W. Swinson, of Benidji, as supervisor of the census over the Sixth District.

The Sixth District is a large one, being composed of Aitkin, Beltrami, Benton, Cass, Crow Wing, Hubbard, Morrison, Sherburne, Stearns, Todd, and Wadena counties, and Mr. Swinson has no small task ahead of him.

TO THE PUBLIC AND FANS

We wish to express our appreciation of the fine spirit of co-operation shown by members of the Brainerd Municipal band, its leader and management at the ball game Sunday and to thank them and the many fans and people for their support and assistance in our attempt to give Brainerd not only a winning team and one that will give our fair city the baseball prominence it deserves but give the people who attend what they want to see, a fast clean and interesting game of ball.

Altho we are under an enormous expense we feel that our efforts are being appreciated and will continue to do all that can be done to give Brainerd the best in the baseball line.

BRAINERD 2, IRONTON 1

Record Crowd Witnessed the Game at Koeing Grounds Sunday Afternoon and Cheered Plays

BRILLIANT FIELDING WAS SEEN

Patterson a Tower of Strength with 6 Strikeouts, 1 Putout, 7 Assists for Brainerd

With Patterson of Minneapolis league fame pitching and backed by errorless fielding, Brainerd beat Ironton 2 to 1 in a game marked by Ironton's revival in the ninth, when they scored their only run.

It was a record attendance, the biggest turnout in the park this season, with every inch of space in grand stand and bleachers occupied, crowds lining base lines and cars in evidence everywhere.

The Brainerd Municipal band played and put the cheer into Brainerd when the team got out successfully from the pinches.

It was fast playing on both sides, with Ironton staging a double play in the third inning and Brainerd pulling off another in the ninth.

Patterson was a tower of strength to the locals, striking out six, putting out one man unassisted and figuring in seven assists.

Out of deference to the labor mass meeting called in Gregory park, the baseball management shifted the opening hour of the game from 3 to 4 o'clock and it was appreciated by the labor men, who first attended their meeting and then marched to the game.

In Detail

Brainerd was the first to stage a run. It happened in the second inning. Cook went out catcher to first. Armstrong got a base on balls. Bessemer singled and Armstrong tried to make a steal for home and was caught between third and home by Catcher McGarry and Third Baseman Moore. Sheffield's hit scored Bessemer, who was further assisted by Left Fielder Pratt's wild throw home, the ball going over McGarry's head.

In the fourth inning Cook singled, Armstrong's sacrifice bunt advanced him a base, Bessemer singled and scored Cook.

Ironton showed a flash of its old fighting and never say die spirit when it staged a revival in the ninth which netted three hits and a run and caused some uneasiness among the Brainerd fans.

It happened this way. Pratt singled and stole a sack. McGarry got a hit and scored Pratt. Clemmens singled. Moore struck out. Howard hit into a double play. Patterson fielding the ball and tossing it to Third Baseman Diedrich which put out McGarry and Diedrich whipping it down to Cook which caught Howard, and the game was over.

Ironton's double play came in the third inning when Richardson was retired Shortstop Kline to Second Baseman Schmidt and Benda went out Schmidt to First Baseman Russ.

Notes of the Game

In the second inning McGarry went out on a third strike bunt.

P. J. Vassaly, editor of the Little Falls Herald, was an interested observer.

Charles Sylvester, of Little Falls, president of the Central Minnesota Baseball League, witnessed the game.

Six cars from Little Falls were present.

Among the Ironton people motoring to the game with parties of friends and relatives were A. A. Mackay, E. R. Burns, E. A. Lamb, Jr., I. W. Smith, T. P. Mulvaney, D. B. McAlpine, H. M. Stetson, Gust Franson, J. T. Hunt, H. B. Ellingson.

Hugo Almquist of Crosby motored to the game with a party.

From Deerwood came A. W. Miller and party.

J. S. McPherson, a road foreman, was so enthused about Brainerd that he wanted to bet the whole proceeds of the sale of his Ford on the team. In the ninth inning when Ironton made a spurt he placed some and won.

In the sixth inning Patterson fielded McGarry's offering and tagged the runner half way to first. Stallman followed with a sensational one-handed scoop of Clemmens' drive and retired him at first.

The game was played in fast time, about an hour and a half.

The only base stealing occurred when Kline stole second and Pratt repeated. Russ tried it and was caught Patterson to Stallman on second.

The wind was rather strong at the first of the game. Benda's high foul in the first inning was headed over the grand stand, but the wind shoved it back so it lodged in McGarry's mitt. Umpire Hughey Jennings of Ironton gave general satisfaction and was right on deck to spot a close play.

The Next Game

The second game of the series will be played at Ironton on the occasion of the home coming celebration Friday, August 22. Many Brainerd peo-

Back Payments Wiped Out

Washington, Aug. 16.—Discharged service men who let their government insurance lapse are given the privilege of reinstating their policies within 18 months without payment of all back premiums, under an order issued by Secretary of the Treasury Glass. The new regulation is regarded as the most liberal ever offered by any insurance organization and is designed to make it possible for every discharged soldier, sailor and marine to continue government insurance after returning to civil life.

The only requirement is that the man requesting reinstatement must be in as good health as at the time of discharge and must pay the premium for the one month of grace in which his insurance was continued after he stopped payment and the premium for the month in which he requests reinstatement.

The reason for this requirement is that the insured was protected by having his policy continued in force that month and if he had died his dependents would have received the face of the policy.

War risk insurance officials say that many service men have been deterred from reinstating policies because they did not wish to pay or could not pay the accumulated premiums. The new decision permits a man to start all over and secure the insurance both as a protection to his dependents and as an investment.

Gets Right of Way

Washington, Aug. 18.—Threats of a nation-wide strike of railroad shop men, together with wage demands of the four railroad brotherhoods has given the H. C. of L. the right of way at the national capital. The league of nations discussion has been side-tracked at the white house and cabinet officials and members of congress discuss the question of growing unrest and mounting living costs.

The flippant claim that high wages is responsible for present prices is no longer heard since the railroad workers demand that "wages must go up or living costs must come down."

A considerable element in congress would gladly dispose of the question by referring it to investigators that "the facts may be ascertained." This reliable old plan is given a different reception by workers than formerly, as they are now acquainted with the results of these investigations. Besides, the unrest refuses to subside. Remedies for present market prices range from prohibiting the exportation of foodstuffs to closing up the moving picture houses. The latter scheme was indirectly suggested by one southern senator, who declared that the movies and other "luxuries" are responsible to a large degree for present conditions.

Press May Criticize

New York, Aug. 18.—Newspapers have the right to criticize public officials for their acts and to deny them that right would "seriously impair the value and force of a democratic government," according to a decision by Supreme Court Justice Greenbaum. The decision was made in the suit for $25,000 for alleged libel begun by former Congressman Bennett against a local newspaper. The newspaper attacked the methods of feeding immigrants who are detained for investigation on leaving the ship. Bennett was general counsel for the contractors. While in congress he was one of the leaders against any restrictions of immigration.

In dismissing the case, the court said:

"Accusation against the public official, whether they be specific or general are not libelous, per se, when they are solely based upon official acts which he may lawfully do."

"The value and force of a representative democratic government would be seriously impaired if its officials, who are merely servants of the people may not be freely criticized in their official acts by those who indirectly employ them. The comments may at times be unwarranted extreme and unjust, but if they be limited to acts which do not involve illegal action or criminality they are permissible comments."

New Minimum Wage

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 18.—The new minimum wage for women workers, minors and apprentices in this state, is now in effect. In cities of 5,000 population or over the rate will be $11 for a week of 48 hours and 23c an hour for additional hours for women workers, with a graduated scale for apprentices during the first nine months. In municipalities of less than 5,000 population the rate will be $10.25 a week and 21½ cents for additional hours. The new schedule applies to all occupations.
